NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort St. George, March 16, 1928
(G.O. Mis. No 271, Public)

No. 139.—In making promotions of the officers of the Indian Civil Service to the posts of Collectors and Sub-Collectors, I Grade, it has been the practice to leave out of consideration officers whose lien had been suspended under Fundamental Rule 13 and to confirm junior officers without making a special reference to the suspension of the lien of the senior officer. This procedure often led to difficulties as the arrangements had to be reversed whenever any officer whose lien had been suspended reverted to this province. In order to obviate such difficulties in future, substantive appointments will be made only against absolutely substantive vacancies, the other arrangements made in consequence of suspension of lien being treated as provisionally substantive appointments. In order to regularise the appointments made in recent years, a list of Collectors and Sub-Collectors, I Grade, on the 1st January 1929 as well as a list of officers holding provisionally substantive appointments as Collectors and Sub-Collectors, I Grade, on that date is appended to these proceedings. Promotions subsequent to this date will be made on this basis.

TARIFF.

New Delhi, the 25th February 1928.

No. 260-T (32).—The Report of the Tariff Board regarding the grant of protection to the manufacture of railway wagons and underframes, component parts thereof and wire and wire-nails, which concludes the statutory enquiry into the steel industry, was published for general information to-day the 25th February 1928.

2. The Government of India accept the findings of the Board that, given a sufficiency of orders, the railway wagon and underframe industry no longer requires any assistance beyond the existing revenue duty, and that the continuance of the bounty scheme, which has been in force during last three years, is unnecessary. They also agree with the Board that, owing to the probable restriction in the normal demand for wagons during the next two or three years consequent on improvements in railway administration, assistance should be given to the industry during this period by taking special steps to secure that, if possible, all the available orders are placed in India.

3. The Board recommend that until the demand for wagons again becomes normal, tenders should be called for only in India and accepted if within a certain maximum price. The maximum price proposed for each type of wagon is the lowest approved price as shown in the tenders for wagons in November 1925 and for underframes in April 1926, plus an addition of 12½ per cent and the appropriate charges for landing, wharfage, etc., and erection. The Government of India are unable to accept this recommendation as it stands The 12½ per cent addition is appropriate only if the total orders to be placed during the year are sufficient to keep the wagon building firms working to 80 per cent of capacity, and would be too low if the orders fall short of this figure. For this reason and also on account of certain practical difficulties the Government of India have decided to adopt the following modified arrangement. Tenders in the first instance will be called for only in India, and the lowest tender accepted provided it is regarded as reasonable. In determining whether the price tendered is reasonable, comparison will be made with the basic price of 1925 in respect of wagons and of 1926 in respect of underframes and allowances will be made either upwards or downwards for variations in steel prices and for the size of the orders to be placed. If the prices tendered are found to be unreasonably high for any type of wagon, the wagon building firms will be informed of the maximum price which the Government of India are prepared to pay and will be given an opportunity of accepting the order at that price. If they are unwilling to do so, simultaneous tenders will be called for in England and in India.

4. The necessity for assisting the industry, however, arises from the fact that with simultaneous tenders and a ten per cent duty there is a serious danger that the orders will be lost to Indian firms. The Government of India have, therefore, decided that the rate of duty on wagons and underframes and their component parts, other than wheels, axles, vacuum brakes and certain other component parts which are not made in India, should be raised to the rates applicable to fabricated steel generally, namely, 17 per cent ad valorem if of British manufacture, and 17 per cent ad valorem plus Rs. 15 per ton if not of British manufacture. It is proposed that the increase in the duty should have effect for three years only, as it is hoped that at the end of that period it may again be possible to place orders on a normal scale.

5 The Tariff Board consider that the manufacture of forgings should be regarded at present as merely a process incidental to the construction of wagons and not as a separate industry. The Government of India accept this finding, and have accordingly decided that forgings other than those mentioned in paragraph 4 above should be subject to the proposed increased duty as component parts of wagons and underframes

6. The Tariff Board recommend the payment of a bounty of Rs 2-8-0 per cwt on steel castings manufactured by the Hukumchand Electric Steel Works for railway rolling stock It has been ascertained, however, that besides the Hukumchand Electric Steel Works there is at least one firm, namely, the Kumardhubi Engineering Works, which is equipped to produce steel castings from indigenous materials and is thus not disqualified from earning the bounty proposed It also appears from the Board's own figures that the effective railway demand is barely sufficient to keep one firm fully employed, so that with two firms in the field, it would not be possible for either to obtain sufficient orders to bring down costs to an economic level, especially as some of the railways manufacture in part their own requirements. In these circumstances, the Government of India are of opinion that the conditions justifying protection for the manufacture of steel castings do not yet exist, and they are therefore unable to accept the bounty scheme recommended by the Board. The higher duty on the component parts of wagons and underframes will in fact give the makers of steel castings for the next three years a large part of the protection considered necessary by the Tariff Board. But the Government of India wish to make it clear first that the increase in the duty on castings is incidental to the increase in the duty on wagons and underframes and would not have been proposed on its own merits; secondly that steel castings have been made to the railway workshops for a number of years and that it is not intended to discontinue their manufacture; and thirdly that it is not the intention of Government to continue the protective duty on wagon castings when it again becomes possible to place normal orders for wagons.

7. The Tariff Board have no recommendation to make in respect of spring steel as it is not manufactured on a commercial basis, and reliable information is not available, on which an estimate of the protection necessary could be based. The Government of India accept this finding.

8. The Government of India accept the recommendation of the Board that on all bolts and nuts falling under Article 21 of the Statutory Tariff Schedule a specific duty of Rs. 2 per cwt. should be levied in place of the existing ad valorem duty of 10 per cent.

9. The Government of India accept the recommendation of the Board that the protective duty on wire and wire-nails should be discontinued.

10. It is proposed to introduce legislation during the current Session to give effect to the decisions mentioned above.

(2) No scholarship will be granted to candidates who are over 20 years of age on 1st July 1928.

(3) The general educational attainments of candidates should be such as would enable them to profit by the training provided. Ordinarily, a fifth standard pass in the primary grade will be regarded as the minimum, but the nature of the trade to be followed, the pecuniary circumstances of the candidate and his general fitness to the work will be taken into account in deciding whether a candidate is qualified for the scholarship.

(4) The candidate and his guardians must enter into an agreement with the employer that he will faithfully fulfil the conditions of apprenticeship and, unless prevented by sickness or other circumstances beyond his control, serve the full term of apprenticeship that may be agreed on.

(5) Applications for scholarships tenable from 1st July 1928 should be submitted through the head of the institution in which a candidate is studying or has last studied so as to reach the office of the Commissioner of Labour on or before 15th June 1928. (6) Any scholarships withdrawn during the period for which it is tenable may be awarded by the Commissioner of Labour for the remaining period to any eligible applicant.

(7) Heads of institutions and employers may grant leave for a period not exceeding one month to scholars who are absent in consequence of severe sickness; but if the leave exceeds this period, no scholarship will be granted for the period exceeding one month. If a scholarship holder absents himself without good reason on the re-opening day after the vacation or holidays, the scholarship for the vacation or the holidays will be withheld.

(8) No person receiving a scholarship under this notification will be permitted to hold another scholarship provided wholly or partly by Government without the special sanction of the Commissioner of Labour.

(9) All scholarships are liable to forfeiture for idleness, misconduct, or irregularity in attendance or failure to make due progress or to secure annual promotion.

(10) A scholarship held in any class or year of apprenticeship shall run from the beginning of the month in which the holder joins the class and shall not be drawn after he ceases to attend the class or leaves the workshop. The scholarships are payable monthly.

(11) A bonus equivalent to two months' average scholarship will be credited to the account of each scholarship-holder for every year of completed training, the amount being actually paid to him only when he has satisfactorily completed the course of training.

(12) A register of scholarships and an acquittance roll which can be had on application to this office shall be maintained by the heads of institutions or employers concerned and should be produced at the time of inspection of the institution, workshop or mill by an officer of the Department of Labour or Industries.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Indian Territorial Force Act, 1920, for certain purposes was presented to the Legislative Assembly on the 10th March 1925.

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Indian Territorial Force Act, 1920, for certain purposes was referred, have considered the Bill and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

2. In sub-clause (2) of clause 1 we have inserted a limiting date for the Act being brought into force.

3. Under the new proviso to section 5, introduced by clause 6 of the Bill, some European British subjects shall become eligible for enrolment in the University Corps; and we have, therefore, inserted a new clause 2 in the Bill amending the long title and preamble to the Act so as to bring them into accord with this change. We have renumbered the remaining clauses of the Bill.

4. In connection with clause 10, we discussed in great detail the assimilation of the constitution and conditions of service of the Territorial Force and the Auxiliary Force. We considered carefully the proposal that the Auxiliary Force and urban units of the Territorial Force should be given a general liability the same as that imposed on the provincial units of the Indian Territorial Force; but we rejected the proposal for the following two main reasons: (i) we fear that the proposal would seriously diminish the numbers and efficiency of the Auxiliary Force, as many of the members themselves might not be in a position to accept the extended liability and many others might be prevented by their employers, including Government, from accepting it; (ii) it might seriously hamper recruiting for the new urban units of the Territorial Force, as many intending members—lawyers, teachers and other professional men—could not take the risk of being sent to remote parts of India, or out of India, to the prejudice of their professional careers. To these reasons we would add that, if any recruit desires to undertake the extended liability, there is nothing to prevent him from joining a provincial unit.

5. After much discussion we concluded that on the whole the Bill itself affords the most practical method of making such assimilation between the Territorial Force and the Auxiliary Force as is possible. It regards the provincial unit as essentially a second line to the Indian Army which will have extensive periods of training and an unrestricted liability. In contrast to these, it regards the University Corps essentially as affording educative activities to University students and imposes upon them no liability for military service. The Auxiliary Force is not analogous to either of these two classes of units in the Indian Territorial Force. The correct analogy is that recommended by the Indian Territorial and Auxiliary Force Committee, namely, between the Auxiliary Force and the urban units of the Territorial Force, which will both have short periods of training and a restricted liability. We accept this scheme, but subject to two recommendations designed to assimilate still further the Auxiliary Force and the urban units of the Indian Territorial Force.

6. Firstly, under present conditions, any person eligible for enrolment under the Auxiliary Force has a reasonable opportunity of being enrolled; whereas we understand that Government propose at the outset to constitute only three urban units for the whole of India. We strongly urge that the Governor General in Council should take as possible steps to establish at once at least one urban unit in every Governor's province, in order to provide reasonable facilities for enrolment to all persons wishing to join these units.

7. Secondly, we desire that the older Indian boys should have the same facilities for military training as the older Anglo-Indian boys now enjoy under the Auxiliary Force Act, 1920. For this purpose we recommend that the rules under the Indian Territorial Force Act should be framed so as to permit the enrolment in urban units of boys from sixteen to eighteen years of age, who should be trained on the same lines as those on which cadets in the Auxiliary Force are being trained, in separate platoons or companies of cadets attached to urban units.

8. In connection with clause 13 of the Bill, we recommend that the Governor General in Council should consider the advisability of establishing, by executive order, a Central Advisory Committee to advise him on matters connected with the administration of the Territorial Force generally.

9. The Bill was published in the Gazette of India, dated the 4th February 1928.

10. We think that the Bill has not been so altered as to require re-publication, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

MINUTE OF DISSENT

We regret that racial distinctions are still maintained in respect of the Auxiliary and the Territorial Forces, in the following respects:—

(1) Difference in the extent of liability for service, and
(2) Difference in the extent of training.

Regarding liability for service, the Shea Committee recommend uniform liability for general military service, within and without the borders of India, for both the Indian Territorial Force and the Auxiliary Force under identical conditions. But Government are not prepared to accept the recommendation for reasons which were set out in detail by the speakers on behalf of the Government in the debate which led up to the formation of the Shea Committee. No fresh reasons are forthcoming. The Shea Committee have very ably disposed of these reasons in paragraph 14, page 13 of their Report, Volume 1.

We hold with the Shea Committee that the liability for service should be absolutely identical for the Territorial and the Auxiliary Forces; for otherwise the object with which the Shea Committee was appointed would be defeated in an important respect.

As regards the second point, i.e., difference in the extent of training, the existing difference should be as early as possible removed, and Indians should be afforded opportunities of receiving training in all the arms, as in the case of the Auxiliary Force. There is no other way of utilizing the unlimited man power of India to the best advantage in an emergency for the defence of the country.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Auxiliary Force Act, 1920, for certain purposes was presented to the Legislative Assembly on the 16th March, 1928 :—

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Auxiliary Force Act, 1920, for certain purposes was referred, have considered the Bill and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

As in the Indian Territorial Force (Amendment) Bill, 1928, we have amended sub-clause (2) of clause 1 in order to introduce a limiting date for the Act being brought into force.

We have amended clause 2 of the Bill in order to delete clause (5) of section 4 of the Act, which permits the enrolment of persons who are not British subjects. We consider it undesirable, as a matter of principle, that foreigners should be eligible for enrolment as members of a volunteer force.

2. The Bill was published in the Gazette of India, dated the 4th February, 1928.

3. We think that the Bill has not been so altered as to require re-publication, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

We regret that racial distinctions are still maintained in respect of the Auxiliary and the Territorial Forces, in the following respects :—

(1) Difference in the extent of liability for service, and

(2) Difference in the extent of training.

Regarding liability for service, the Shea Committee recommend uniform liability for general military service, within and without the borders of India, for both the Indian Territorial Force and the Auxiliary Force under identical conditions. But Government are not prepared to accept the recommendation for reasons which were set out in detail by the speakers on behalf of the Government in the debate which led up to the formation of the Shea Committee. No fresh reasons are forthcoming. The Shea Committee have very ably disposed of those reasons in paragraph 14, page 18 of their Report, Volume I.

We hold with the Shea Committee that the liability for service should be absolutely identical for the Territorial and the Auxiliary Forces; for otherwise the object with which the Shea Committee was appointed would be defeated in an important respect.

As regards the second point, i.e., difference in the extent of training, the existing difference should be as early as possible removed, and Indians should be afforded opportunities of receiving training in all the arms, as in the case of the Auxiliary Force. There is no other way of utilizing the unlimited man power of India to the best advantage in an emergency for the defence of the country.

L.A. BILL No. 17 OF 1927.

[AS AMENDED BY THE SELECT COMMITTEE.]

A Bill further to amend the Indian Succession Act, 1925.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Succession XXXIX of 1925. Act, 1925; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Indian Succession (Amendment) Act, 192 . Short title.

2. After sub section (2) of section 372 of the Indian Succession XXXIX of 1925. Act, 1925, the following sub section shall be added, namely:— Amendment of section 372, Act XXXIX of 1925.

"(3) Application for such a certificate may be made in respect of any debt or debts due to the deceased creditor or in respect of portions thereof * * * * *"

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Indian Mines Act, 1923, for certain purposes was presented to the Legislative Assembly on the 12th March 1928.

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Indian Mines Act, 1923, for certain purposes, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

Papers Nos. I and II.

2. Clause 1.—We considered the proposal that this Act should come into force at once, or, at least, on some date much earlier than the 1st day of April 1930; but bearing in mind the important alterations in working conditions which this Bill and other contemplated changes (viz., the gradual stoppage of employment of women underground) will bring about in many mines, we thought it safer not to run the risk of outstripping the capabilities of some of the mines to adjust themselves to these rapidly altering conditions. However, these considerations do not apply to section 7, and we propose to amend sub clause (2) of clause 1 so as to bring this into force at once.

It was pointed out to us that it would be a convenience to many mines if the Act came into force immediately after a non-working day, and we have accordingly altered the 1st day of April into the 7th day of April, which is a Monday, and have made a consequential amendment to the proposed new section 23B (2).

3. Clause 2.—We discussed in great detail a proposal to shorten the period of twelve hours proposed as the maximum hours of daily work in the new clause (d) of section 23, and we considered, in succession, whether the period should be reduced to eight, ten or eleven hours. The proposal to reduce the period to eight hours was strongly urged in the interests of the workmen, for reasons with which we find ourselves in sympathy. There can be no doubt that in a properly equipped and organized mine, the eight hours' shift is the best for all concerned, for reasons which are so well known that they require no elaborate statement by us. The advantages of the eight hours' shift are so clear that, we understand, many well equipped mines in India do now actually work on an eight hours' shift.

But, in view of the present conditions in Indian mines, we are of opinion that the immediate introduction of a compulsory eight hours' shift would be detrimental to the interests of many of the workers themselves. The miner's wages are not fixed on a daily basis, but on a piece-work basis at so much per tub of coal, and the average outturn of a miner is three tubs of coal per working day. A skilful miner who works hard can fill four tubs in eight hours, but this rate of output is exceptional, and the majority of the miners consider the getting of three tubs to be a day's work; and to turn out even this amount within a limited time requires a certain degree of punctuality and application, and also the provision of a sufficient number of tubs. Now many miners, who are drawn largely from the aboriginal classes, have not yet trained themselves fully to habits of punctuality and regularity, and if they should begin work an hour or two late on a day with a maximum of eight hours' working time and are turned out of the mine at the end of the eight hours, they may not succeed in earning their present rate of daily wages. At present they may take, and do take, longer than eight hours to get their three tubs of coal. Under a maximum twelve hours' system they will not have the same latitude as to hours of work which they now have, but their habits will not be so seriously interfered with as to diminish their earnings. Again, the capacity of a miner to get three tubs of coal during any maximum period of daily work necessarily depends on the supply of three tubs to him at the proper times during that period; but many mines are insufficiently equipped with tubs, and in the present position of the coal mining industry in India, the mine-owners may not be in a financial position to buy the large extra number of tubs that will be required in order to give the miner a fair opportunity of receiving payment for three tubs of coal per day of eight hours. It is apprehended, therefore, that in these mines the inevitable effect of restricting the daily working hours of a miner to a maximum of eight will be to reduce his daily earnings.

4. We consider that the safest course is to advance cautiously and to consolidate the position as we go along. When the miner has acquired improved habits of punctuality and application under the twelve hours' shift system, and the small mine owner has equipped his mine properly, the eight hours' shift may be introduced. Meanwhile, we would point out that under a twelve hours' shift there is nothing to prevent skilful and punctual miner from filling his three, or even four, tubs in eight hours and then coming out of the mine.

5. The proposal to have a ten or eleven hours' shift can be supported and opposed on very similar grounds and also on others. A compulsory two hours' shift would, in practice, mean in many cases an actual eight hours' shift, otherwise the mine would remain empty and unworked for several hours of the twenty-four. The proposal for a ten or twelve hours' shift was also supported on the ground that it will allow some time between shifts in which the mine could be cleared of men working on the ore shift before others went below, and thereby confusion would be avoided and the work of inspection facilitated; but some of the larger mines are already working on an eight hour shift without confusion or difficulty in inspection.

We also considered the proposal that we should provide now by Statute that the eight hours' shift should be introduced after the twelve hours' shift had been in operation for three years; but we prefer not to tie the hands of the Legislature of three years hence in this matter.

6. We adhere, therefore, to the twelve hours' shift proposed in the Bill, but as we all agree that the eight hours' shift is the system which should gradually be worked up to, we recommend to Government that after the present Bill has been in force for three years, the situation should be again examined to see whether an eight hours' shift can then be introduced.

7. Clauses 4 and 5.—The proposed section 23-A set out in clause 5 of the Bill contemplated rules to exempt mines from the provisions of the new section, in particular circumstances, but it transpires that there are no circumstances of a general kind which would entitle mines generally to exemptions from this provision, save those contemplated in sections 24 and 25 of the Act. The proposed section, therefore, can be reduced to a provision regulating the hours of employment only, and as such we have incorporated it in section 23, as a new sub-section, by an amendment of clause 2 of the Bill. Sections 24 and 25 will now apply automatically, and if any special circumstance should arise in any mine which we have not foreseen, it may be dealt with under section 46 of the Act.

8. Clause 5.—In the proposed section 23-A it was proposed to omit the words "in work of the same kind", as their presence may afford a loop hole for evasion. We consider that evasion by this means is unlikely, and if any instances should occur they will be brought to the notice of the Government by the inspecting staff, and necessary measures can then be taken. We prefer to retain the words to cover the cases of clerks, checkers and so forth, whose work may occupy a portion of the time of both shifts.

9. We consider that the proposed section 23-B is unnecessary and is an undue complication, and we have deleted it.

10. Clause 6.—We have deleted clause 5, for reasons given above, and have re-numbered the original clause 6 as clause 5. In the new clause 6 we have introduced a provision reproducing in part the power to prescribe the form of notices under section 23-B, and also giving a further explicit power to Local Governments to require that these notices shall be posted in the vernaculars known to the employees in the mine.

MINUTES OF DISSENT.

Although the Bill, inasmuch as it places a limit on the daily hours of work in Indian mines, effects some improvement in the legal position as regards the hours of work, we still feel that as this legislation is being undertaken more than fifty years after the starting of the industry, the maximum hours of work to be permitted by legislation should not be more than eight, and there is absolutely no serious difficulty in doing this. In a large number of mines, it is admitted the workers do not work for more than eight hours, and they do not get less wages than those workers who work longer hours: nor do the owners of these mines earn less profits. The argument about the lack of habits of regularity and punctuality among miners has no force and may equally be used against any limit to be placed upon the daily hours of work. The same may be said about the alleged difficulty created by the fact that some miners do not reside near the mines but go there to work from their villages. We, therefore, consider that the maximum daily hours of work should be eight and not twelve as approved by the majority. We also feel that the Bill should come into force from the 1st April 1929. As the question has been under discussion for five years and as the Bill was introduced in the Assembly in the early part of 1927 no injustice will be done to the employers, if they are not allowed more time to effect the change required by this legislation.
